

Kitchen table talk

May 16, 2008

When the Master Teacher began to teach, he sat with his thoughts (students) around the table and recorded what became "The kitchen Table Talks". The first couple of years, and those are those are the ones that everyone cherishes, have all of the energy that he brought in with him when he came returned.

In simplest terms, the process we are engaged in involves one idea, and that is purification. What is occurring is that your thoughts are being purified by exposure to, submission to, surrender to, the Light which is the Source of you. Correction and purification, are the same idea; a simple alignment of your thoughts with the Thought of God. Quite literally; the Thought of God is all you need to align your thoughts with the Truth of you.

In other words, there is no judgment. The content of your mind is never judged, never. Only purified and the purification is only a reminder, the correction is only a reminder of what you already are. Purification is not a change at all, you don't change.

The only thing that changes in this alchemy of transformation, are the ideas that you are holding about yourself; and even in that sense the ideas themselves are neither, good nor bad. There is nothing inherently wrong with the ideas, or even with the body identity. They are simply being purified of your judgment, which is the perception of something less than light, or something other than light.

So again it is only the perception that is being corrected or purified. It is a very simple process of exposing yourself to Corrective Principle, and it is natural. You have made that gesture, obviously, or you wouldn't be here. And now the key is to stand still or long enough for the correction to complete itself.

You are well under way in terms of this transition, you are a lot further along than you even realize. I can tell, I know the way and I can tell that you are making very rapid progress. Conscious exposure is all that you need to be aware of, in other words don't wonder off into temptation. Temptation is only the idea that you can do something other than to serve God, or better, other than to be happy. Temptation is nothing but a form of unhappiness. That is all, it is very simple.

Let me offer it this way: If the form is unhappy is because you are seeing something that isn't there. There is nothing inherently unhappy about the form. The form is, in truth, a reflection of happiness. That is what it is.

Here is a perfect example: What is this form, speaking to you of transformation? This very body form is a reflection of happiness. We are sitting here together and what is happening? We are being informed by the light. This circumstance is being in-formed by the Light, your very circumstance is being informed by the light. What Am I trying to do? Increase your awareness of it. How do I do it? By demonstrating, by showing you that all there is, is another form of happiness. That is all there is! "What about death?" Another form of happiness! You are only miss-perceiving it, if you see it as something else.

This is really where we are; in the transformation of the mind. As the mind transforms, the body transforms. In other words, the physical circumstances, which are only reflections, thoughts in your mind, are changed as the thoughts in your mind change. Alright? That is it. I love you guys. Thank you.

I am just trying to set a stage here where this realization is stabilized. In other words; where this picture, this hologram, is a reflection of this transitional thought. Call it Love or Light or Spirit, or even You if you like.

If you think of it in terms of time and space, space is collapsing into a single instant of time, space being just memory. Cellular memory, which is what space is, it is collapsing into a single instant of time, and you are allowing that to occur in a single instant. You are allowing it to occur in this instant. You are allowing this instant to be the one when that occurs. It includes all of the memories of your associations with one another in light.

We are gathering in light at the end of the sequence, at the end of time, at the top of the spiral. It is getting more and more difficult to avoid the light. Everywhere you go you will see light, because at the top of the spiral, all you see are reflections of light. It is not profoundly fragmented as when you are deep in time. At the top of the spiral all you see are reflections of unity, or reflections of light.

In other words, you recognize your own thoughts, you see them immediately. You recognize them; there they are, they are right there. There is no place for them to go, and all you are doing is standing still and allowing them to be reconciled in you. Yes, that is what is occurring and that is what the purification is all about.

The only way in which you will allow them to be reconciled in you, is if you are not afraid of them. Yes or no? You are looking at your thoughts now as they appear before you, and these are your physical thoughts as well as the thoughts in your mind which are the same thing. As they appear before you, the only way you will allow them to be reconciled in you is if you are not afraid of them. That is why we are gathering in this place. That is why you have thoughts that are appearing here, and your function, your responsibility, is to stand still and not be afraid.

That is it, but you have all the help that you need. The only way that you will allow them to be reconciled is through love. Yes? Love overcomes the fear. Love transforms the fear. Love is the identity that has been given you. Love is the identity that has been established in this place, so you can step in, breath, and allow these thoughts to be reconciled in you, without fear. There is nothing to be afraid of in this place.

That is why it is here, that is why I am here. This place has been given you as a provision for your transition. Make use of it! It is a perfect form, because it is continuously being re-insinuated from outside the frame.

We said that from the beginning, we were going to allow it to be flexible. We were going to allow the form to change, to reflect the currency of the transition. I love you guys. Thank you. Really there is not too much to say anymore; anything I say is just a verification of what you already know. The question becomes: are you willing to share what you know, with everything? In other words, is your mind sufficiently purified to embrace everything and everyone? And that is not something you have to do with words, you can just sit in your room quietly and include everything. That is physical resurrection.

That is exactly what I did. When I went to Hawaii, I sat and I drew a circle and said: I am not going to move until everything is reconciled in me. That is exactly what happened. It took a moment, It took forty days, but it happened, it occurred as an event. I was sufficiently prepared, I made a decision; "God find me and take me, I am all yours." And what was shown to me, was that in order to remember God, I had to remember you. That is it!

And that is what this place is, and it looks really good. Look at it, we are together, you know we are together, you can feel it. Now we are just kind of enjoying, knowing one another, enjoying the reconciliation that is occurring in the formulation. It is called completing your function, by the way, its the same idea. That is what completing your function is; being happy within the formulation, because you are aware that it is being accomplished in you.

Outside the frame, we know perfectly well that it has already been accomplished, we are playing, as Jesus will teach it, this final game. We are enjoying one another's company. It is the only company you want to be with, those that are with you at the end of time. Even though you are extending your mind to include everyone, the only ones you want to hang around with are those that are with you at the end of time. This is common sense.

I just want to read a little from lesson 151 which is one of my favorites:

All things are echoes of the voice of God.

You can hear it, come on, you can hear it like an echo. Everything is an echo or a reflection, like yodeling, God is yodeling into the world. All things are echoes:

No one can judge on partial evidence, this is not judgment.

I don't have enough information.

It is merely an opinion based on ignorance or doubt. It's seeming certainty is but a cloak for the uncertainty it would conceal.

And every one is aware of this, the seeming certainty of an opinion: you offer an opinion and you seem to be certain.

...It needs irrational defense, because it is irrational.

Yes or no? You know this, when you pretend that you know something, everyone here is guilty of this. When you pretend that you know something and you defend that opinion, you know all the while that you are a liar. The moment you defend yourself, you know perfectly well in the back of your mind that you are making it all up.

That recognition is what the light is. That realization that you are a liar is what the light is. I am trying to call you home know. This is an echo of the voice of God. That recognition, that realization that you are lying is what en-light-ten-ment is.

Can you hear me? Can you hear it that way?

Jesus teaches...you've been a liar from the beginning...

The moment you enter in you have to defend a condition which is inherently unreal, of course...

I love you guys, I'm trying to take you back home, that's all!

Stand still, Do nothing It will resolve!

Do nothing, it will resolve....

Do nothing, say nothing, it will resolve.

Don't defend yourself and it will resolve...

Expose yourself completely, and it will be resolved!

Expose yourself as a liar, oh shit! It's called the crucifixion!

Crucifixion is not really... is only an instant

No one really does anything. No one is putting nails in your hands, nothing is happening. All is happening is that you are exposing yourself as a liar, THIS IS A LIE! ...or it's dream, or is an illusion.

Are you ok? Did you get all that? That was good stuff, listen to the tape, this will be a kitchen table talk...

....Your ministry, now, begins as you allow all of your thoughts to be purified. So you are taught to teach the Son of God the holy lesson of his sanctity..

...of his holiness. Why are you teaching him his sanctity? Because that's how you learn it yourself! You are teaching him, because he is YOU! So you are revealing his sanctity and thereby remembering your own...got it?

...No one can fail to listen, when you hear the Voice of God give honor to God's Son. And everyone will share the thoughts with you which He has retranslated in your mind.

Everyone will share the thoughts that he has retranslated in your own mind...as you open your mind to the correction, you are sharing those thoughts with everyone, because the correction is, some form of: there's only one of us! Is the only thought that can be shared! And then listen to what he says: Such is your resurrection!

..Such is your Eastertide. And so you lay the gift of snow white lilies upon the world, replacing witnesses to sin and death.

Listen to this, this is physical transformation, the only time he speaks of it in the Course... listen Through your transfiguration, is the world redeemed.

Through your transfiguration, which is physical, that's what transfiguration means! It means conversion of the body identity...

...Through your transfiguration is the world redeemed, and joyfully released from guilt. Now do we lift our resurrected minds in gladness and in gratitude to Him Who has restored our sanity to us. As we give thanks, the world unites with us and happily accepts our holy thoughts, which Heaven has corrected and made pure. Now has our ministry begun at last, to carry around the world the joyous news that truth has no illusions, and the peace of God, through us, belongs to everyone.

It's good stuff... Thank you, thank you guys, I love you! Thank you for joining me in this place! Anyone have anything to add? Keep it short because we have a big day today, big night tonight, big weekend coming up...

We don't want to give too much away right at the beginning, we want to keep you in suspense... I love you guys, thank you NAMASTE

Finally, I'll just offer this to you, from my own event. In the event of my own transition or transfiguration, as frequency was increased by relying on Grace, it was like an ascending spiral moving upwards but at the same time, a thought would arise, from the bottom that I experienced as being bellow me, in time, and I had to look at that thought and allow it to be purified in the light. In other words, all of my memories arose during the ascending process in order to be purified.

I mean this literally, and all I did was look at them again, from the perspective of the light, I looked at them again, and I was glad. And I'm talking about even the shit ones, I looked at them again, in the light, and they were not shit at all; they were purified in the light!

In other words, I was given a different perspective, I saw them differently, I saw them in light and I saw...there was nothing wrong with anything... that all things are but echoes of the voice of God, and I saw that with clarity, because I was given the perspective of the light by which to see them!

Like, for instance, my first relationship, first marriage...which had a lot of shit associated with it, human shit associated with it, all the human drama associated with it. When I saw it again in light, I laughed out loud because it was all love, it was all light, there was nothing wrong with it! I can't describe it, I can just tell you that it's true.

All of the shit has an element in it, if you see it directly, of light and of love! I mean, I saw all of it transform to light and love. All that we ever said to one another was I love you, that's it! It sounded like shit, But it was only love, cause in the back of all the shit, was the love. That is true in all of your relationships, in back of all the shit, is the love, And that love remains unmovable,

And that's what's happening here, without the fear that something is being taken from you...alright? I love you guys, thank you. We just slowed it down sufficiently so you are allowing it to occur without fear. Thank you... I'm glad you are here

Namaste...

I'm off to the post office ... I'm going to send a message of love...
