

A physical Bridge

October 12, 2008

A physical bridge... Because I am Italian... That is what I do.

When they have a project like this they choose an Italian. But they can't send him to Italy, because in Italy everyone wants to be the builder. They put him in Spain. You guys are willing to follow directions. Thank you for that. Sprinkle in a few English....

It's working! This is a physical space, it's constructed from the transitional frequency so it vibrates at that frequency and yet is a physical space and you can feel it within the context of your dream. That is all. That was my assignment.

Yet it doesn't work without your permission! That is what this week end is about. It's about you giving me permission to enter, to build the space; A world with out pain, without suffering. That's the bridge, it's the reflection that you are seeking.

Its translation! The world of sin is translated to a world of light. It's like you are learning to don your light body, it's a good way to teach it, how Jesus teaches it. You are allowing God to reconstruct your vehicle. That is a good way of saying it. Your body is becoming light. You are leaving a space vacant.

This week end was a huge step in that direction. Yes, you made a declaration in Light and now your dream is being adjusted by the Light. My suggestion is; allow that to occur. Don't be so quick to reestablish by thinking you have an idea of what is going on. I suggest you step back! Keep stepping back. Every time you have an idea, step back, because it is still reconfiguring.

This week end is going to take a moment to reconfigure. There is a lot of light. Don't be so quick to establish. That is my suggestion, the more you step back, the more light you will see, but not only that; you will feel it, you will experience it, you will know it. It is physical.

I've got all of the Italians out of time! They are reconstructing the stage. Give them a moment. They are all arguing with one another on how it is supposed to look! I love you. Thank you.

Every time you think you know, you are slowing down the process. You have been wrong about everything, just continue to be wrong about everything, and you will be fine. It is being wrong that got you here. Trust me, I mean that both ways. You couldn't be at this frequency unless you were wrong.

Everything is given. Here comes the Grace. Every time you step back, Grace enters. It will be effortless if you keep stepping back.

“I don’t know how to proceed”, so don’t, don’t proceed. When you are brought back into the association of sickness, what you have learned to say is: “Get thee behind me devil”. Yes? As Jesus demonstrated! You are tempted by the world, you are tempted by the sickness and you say: “Get behind me devil. I have no need of this. I have no interest in that, I have transcended that. I invite you to transcend that along with me and if you wont, I’ll see you later. I have no time for sickness.”

The guys that cherish sickness are not going to let it go because you ask them to! Have you come this far, Teacher of God? When sickness is cherished, there is no way you are going to convince them otherwise. So I will see you later. Everyone comes around finally. Someone will step in and pick that one up. I am only interested in those that have risen sufficiently to see the light and to need the light and require the light, because without the light, there is nothing.

Guys, you have come this far and you know that without the light there is nothing. There is no way out. It is just the blind leading the blind. It is impossible! Yes? This is what you have discovered. Are you making the decision? Without the light it is impossible.

In light the way is clear. It is certain, it is true, it is easy! Thank you for joining me in light. You are strengthening this idea, this physical bridge. When you add your determination, your dedication to the light, you are strengthening the bridge and making it easier for others to cross. That is why you are here, your assignment. OK? Thanks guys. I love you.

Trust is an important word now. Trust in the process. It is unfolding perfectly. Everything is working perfectly. For your sake stop questioning what is occurring. The only thing that could be occurring is your awakening. Why do you question it? You questioning is your denial of it. Yes, or No?

“I wish it would look different”... No you don’t. You really don’t! Because you don’t know what it looks like. You have no idea what it is. Different is not the answer. A change of mind about the purpose of the world is the answer.

Thank you guys!.... We look really good. Thanks for this week end. It may be the final intensive.

What you’ve got here is very attractive. Trust me. You are very attractive. You are attracting attention everywhere and I mean everywhere. Not only outside of time but inside as well. Everyone is looking in because it is working. You are making connections now. I love you guys. Thank you. Breathe and be happy. Good work!

There is so much light now that it is becoming clear to you what vision is, and the responsibility that is associated with it. Vision and responsibility, are the same thing. In other words your awareness of what is really here increases as you accept responsibility. I am responsible for what I see, is what Vision is.

Jesus is going to describe it here in this lesson:

Lesson 108.

To Give And To Receive are One In Truth

Vision depends upon today's idea. The light is in it, for it reconciles all seeming opposites. And what is light except that resolution, born of peace, of all your conflicts and mistakes thoughts into one concept which is wholly true?

That is this place. That is what you are, that is where you find yourself. You find yourself within the context of the resolution. This is one concept. One concept which is wholly true! What makes it wholly true? They look at you and turn away. But the moment they look at you, you've got them. The moment you looked at me, I got you. It is too late. You can turn away all you want, but you will come back. I am not concerned of how long it takes. I've got you. You are hooked, and I am reeling you in.

It is like a vehicle. This is a vehicle of ascension and you are a whole part of that construction. You are playing your part perfectly. Thank you for that. I couldn't do it without you.

Now, here is the thing...I am going to look at you for a moment..., look around you, this is a vehicle of ascension. Everyone here is ascending together, because we are dedicating our individual selves to the agency or the process of ascension, the Holy Spirit.

You are a healer.. yes? No one is questioning your healing ability. What is being questioned is what is it for, why are you doing it for whose benefit are you doing it? I can say, we can use this, use you in this circle but in order to be used you have to dedicate yourself to God, because here we are dedicated to God. We are not serving anything else. We are not serving the world.

That is why you are here. Now you are being asked to take another step. You are being asked to graduate now. I am showing you now how. Just breathe, relax, it is here where the healer is healed. It is easier than you think. But you make it very difficult for yourself. It is much easier.

You are not doing anything. You are not the healer. God is. That is all you need to see. You are not doing anything. You have no business here. God has business, not you. Let God do His business through you. It is still easier. Thank you.

Jesus makes a distinction, and I made that distinction for you yesterday. I don't need your promises, I need your demonstration. Good, good. I know that you are saying that, that's what you want, but it is not in the saying, it is in the doing, it is in the demonstration. That is a little bit better....

I do whatever God tells me to do. Healing is what singular self identity is. Healing is there is only one of us. It's a frequency! You have to step on up out of the world, which means that you have to step up out of your own suffering. For the glory of God and His Son! Thank you, thank you Father... thank you. My Father lights my way!

The path is open, I merely walk into it. Show it, reveal it to me!

Now, what I can offer to you is this; It is not a mistake that you are here. I can offer you that and it springs from your intention. I am not setting myself up as anything other than you reflection of your intention. It is not a mistake that you are here. But listen.., you will have to breathe because you will have to accept a little more responsibility if you are going to be here with me. You are responsible. You are responsible for the very sickness that you are attempting to heal. An unhealed healer believes that he is healing something that he is not the cause of.

I am perfectly aware, at the threshold, that I am responsible for all of it. All of the pain, all of the suffering, all of the death, I am responsible for it. Yes? And if I enter back in I will be making that real for me. And I am not doing that anymore! I am calling you up to the real world, to the place where you look at sickness and say: that's a construct of my own mind and I don't want it anymore. Get thee behind me devil! Absolutely!

This is a place in the consciousness; it is the place that you established yesterday. You did it.

You said; I want to see the real world. OK: You invited me in. I am revealing it to you; It is a world without pain, without sickness, a world without death. That is healing! Healing does not acknowledge, sickness. Why? Because it is not there! It is an illusion, it is an invention of consciousness... it is not real. It doesn't acknowledge suffering. Come on. Do you want to be a healer with me? I am showing you how to heal. Don't acknowledge sickness. It is an illusion! Because it is a construct of your mind, and you are making it real by manipulating it!... I am going to make this sickness go away by manipulation. That is not how it works. You are just going to die of something else. That is not how it works!

This is an idea in your mind; I am taking responsibility for it, and I am calling on God to release me of that burden. That is what I am demonstrating today: Father, father, of myself I can't do nothing, but in You, I am already healed, and so is everything else! Everything else is just a thought in my own mind. You can hear that, even Max (the dog) can hear it. Thank you, I love you guys!

You are making great strides; your steps are bigger that you know! It is only one step. You don't even need twelve, you don't even need two. You only need one... Father! That is it, but mean it when you say it! When you really see what is going on...Holy shit, you are so glad that God is with you that you don't know what to do!

Father, thank you! Holy shit, I have no clue how to get out of here, thank God that you are with me, and You are showing me the way. With out you I am addicted to the sickness, and I invent all sorts of ways to do what? To keep it, including healing! I invent all sorts of ways to keep it. I am going to set up myself as a Guru and heal you. You are not doing shit. No one here is doing shit! God is doing everything. Trust me! I love you guys. Thank you Father for being here!

This is a dream now and these are only figures. Sickness isn't real! Sickness does not exist. The body doesn't exist. Good. That is a lot better. You look beautiful. You can do this. Come on. You are kneeling at the cross you are like the Madonna. Now look up! There is no one at the cross, except you. You are the only one at the cross. It is just a story and you are free of it. Thank you, Father. There is a lot light.

He is revealing Himself to you as yourself. This is Grace now. The grace is descending to your individual dream. Just breathe, you will be fine. There is help all around you. These guys are here for you. The Angels light your way, they are all around you. Michael; you saw this clearly yesterday. What is all around you? Angels, sent by God in order to guide your way, in order to minimize your fear, which is the same thing!

You are transitioning, everyone here is transitioning. You didn't think you were going to stay here forever, did you? You are transitioning. But you are not going to transition to another place in time. You are going to transition to eternity. You need a safe place. I am offering you a safe passage. I've got you, I've got you.

My way is a little unorthodox, but it works.

Just a little more from the lesson:

...True light, the light that makes true seeing possible, is not the light that body's eyes behold. It is a state of mind

Listen, this is where you all are. Trust me, you are a lot further than you imagine.

...it is a state of mind that has become so unified that the darkness cannot be perceived at all.

Did you hear that? Your state of mind has become so unified, you are so certain of purpose, that you can't even see the darkness. You will overlook it entirely. It is like you see it like a cloud, you can poke your finger right through it. It is not there. In other words, it is an illusion. This sickness that you are trying to heal is an illusion. You don't even see it!

How do you heal it? You put your finger right through it. I mean this literally. You look at it and you watch it dissolve into nothingness. It is an illusion. It is a lie being retained by you until you no longer want it. Listen, there is no one out there, there are only thoughts in your own mind. That's all you see, that's all the body's eyes can see. Dream figures, they come and go, they have no substance. None, zero, OK? They are just ideas, thoughts. This is the vision that makes healing possible. You can't heal without vision. You can't heal without responsibility! It is the same thing.

How do you heal? I am responsible for what I see. Yes, or no? Come on! Of course! I am responsible for what I see. How else can I heal? It is impossible to heal if I am not responsible!

What gives me the right to teach? That it is true! Even if I don't believe it is true, it is true, and that gives me the right to teach it! I am showing you. You can teach this, even if you don't believe it is true you can teach it. Why? Because it is true, and you will learn that it is true by teaching it.

I love you guys. Keep it simple. You can trust in this. It must be true, if it is not true, you are in deep shit. It better be true. Of course I could be wrong about all this.....thats a joke...

...It is a state of mind so unified that the darkness can not be perceived at all. And thus what is the same is seen as one, while what is not the same remains unnoticed, for it is not there.

I don't know how to teach it. Jesus is teaching in paradoxes. He is telling you that what you think you see is not there. What do you do with that? You learn to accept it, because it is true. What you think you see is not there. The world is transparent. Yes. What is there in its place? The world that the light is revealing, we call this the real world. How beautiful the world will look when you can see it. You can only see it in light. What you see in darkness is not there.. Did you hear me? You can only see it in light. What you see in darkness is not there.

Now you can enjoy this transition, you are all playing a roll. You look beautiful. You are playing your part perfectly. Just stop to compare your part with another and you will be fine. You can't play another roll. If you want to play another roll, it will still be yours. Of course! I love you guys. Thank you.

Thank you for the part that you are playing in this final dream. You will never be happy as long as you are comparing your part with another. Because it is impossible! You are beyond comparison. All you can do is realize that your part is being cast in Heaven. God is casting it for you, and He is using everything. He is using the Italian in you. He doesn't care. He is not making those judgments. Everything you are will serve Him, when it is your will to serve Him. You have done nothing wrong, you are not guilty. He only knows you as perfect. He is using you perfectly, whether you are aware of it or not. I am just trying to make you aware of it.

You know you are serving this transition even if you have no intention to transition. I will show you how I see it. Even if you have no intention at all to transitioning you are serving this transition. I am using you. Sorry, I am going to use you whether you intend to transition with me or not. I am going to use you on behalf of those who do have the intention to transcend. Sorry you can be offended by that, I am still going to use you on behalf of those who intend to transcend.

We have been using all sorts of guys who have no intention to transcend. I don't care! I use everything. Can you hear me a little bit? In other words you are being used by God whether you know it or not. Even if you are denying it you are being used. He uses everything. I am teaching you to use everything. Don't be offended. Who is waking up here anyway? You are. Use everything in order to awaken. Don't be confused by that. You are not doing anything wrong. Alright?

I love you guys. Be happy. You are not guilty, screw this place! Everyone judges and crucifies everyone else here anyway. Fuck this place. Your responsibility is to show the way out, and use everything in order to do that. That is what I am doing. Ok? I love you.

Brother-_I read a sentence this morning : Trusting the Holy Spirit absolves me of all guilt.

That is the great secret. The light is indiscriminating.

Brother- I am determined to transition.

Now, that determination is taking shape, it is keeping pace with you. It is a good way to teach it. If you stay determined, consistent in that determination then what you will see is a reformulation of the context. That is what is happening here... you wake up and you really don't know what is happening, because what is happening is changing all the time; it is continuously being re-formulated. You are in a good place. Stay there. "But it feels a little weird." I know ... what did you expect? "It feels a little unfamiliar". Of course it feels like that. What is familiar is what is killing you ! Yes, or no? What is familiar is what is already past and is killing you.

Learn to become comfortable on the stage. It is like surfing change. Everything is changing beneath you but you are just like enjoying it because you are above it. It is like surfing or flying. It is the same. You are enjoying it if you are riding that wave. It is a perfect metaphor. You just rise above it.

I want you to be happy. Never be frightened by change. Change is always benevolent. Always! To those who are courageous enough to surrender, change is always benign. I love you guys.

Why is it changing? So that you can realize that it is an illusion. Only illusions change but you need to be in a disposition that you can see that what changes is an illusion. Truth is truth and nothing else is truth.

I love you guys and you are very close to hearing it at a very high level. Keep on breathing. Try not to formulate. Just keep breathing and let God formulate. Good. That is your salvation: Your listening.

...This is the light that shows no opposites, and vision, being healed, has the power to heal.

Now you are a healer with me. When your vision is healed, when your sight is healed.. you have the power to heal That is what is being offered you. This is going to be a world without sickness. A world without sickness is inhabited by healers. The population of the real world is healers! Healers are the only thing you find in the real world. Every place you look in the real world, you see a healer, or shared vision which is the same thing. OK? can you hear me a little bit? In other words, the only ones I want here are healers. I don't want anything else. Why would I want anyone else here? Anyone else would be an illusion.. Now we are joined in a new context. We are gathered here outside of time. Is the same idea!

I love you guys. You are further along than you know. OK?

...this is the light that brings your peace of mind to other minds, to share and to be glad that they are one with you and with themselves. This is the light that heals because it brings single perception, based upon one frame of reference, from which our meaning comes.

Here are both giving and receiving seen as different aspects of one Thought whose truth does not depend on which is seen as first, nor which appears to be in second place.

Here there is no difference between the therapist and the patient, between the teacher and the student.

...Here it is understood that both occur together, that the Thought remains complete. And in this understanding is the base on which all opposites are reconciled, because they are perceived from the same frame of reference which unifies this Thought.

Listen to this next paragraph:

One thought, completely unified, will serve to unify all thoughts. This is the same as saying one correction will suffice for all correction, or that to forgive one brother wholly is enough to bring salvation to all minds.

Are you OK? Can you do this with me? To forgive one brother, to know one brother as yourself is sufficient to heal all minds. Are you OK? Can you stay there with me? At this frequency it should be easy, because everyone around you is a whole and perfect though in your mind. How do I know? It is what this frequency is. I am here at this frequency and you are here with me, and all around you are the reflections of This One Thought. OK? They are starting to make their appearances and you will recognize them as your own.

It is in the final prayer of Jesus. "Father thank you, you have sent those to me that I am responsible for, thereby reminding me of whom I am". Thank you. I love you. I am so glad that you are here. We are sharing this final dream together, and all around you is the evidence that God is with you, in just this very form. Are you OK? I love you guys. Thank you, thank you, that is pretty much all I have to say.

---To learn that giving and receiving are the same has special usefulness, because it can be tried so easily and seen as true. And when this special case has proved it always works, in every circumstance where it is tried, the thought behind it can be generalized to other areas of doubt and double vision. And from there it will extend, and finally arrive at the one Thought which underlies them all.

Today we practice with the special case of giving and receiving. We will use the simple lesson, in the obvious because it has results we cannot miss. To give is to receive. Today we will attempt to offer peace to everyone, and see how quickly peace returns to us. Light is tranquility, and in that peace is vision given us and we can see.

So we begin the practice periods with the instruction for today and say:

To give and to receive are one in truth.

I will receive what I am giving now.

Then close your eyes, and for five minutes think of what you would hold out to everyone, to have it yours. You might, for instance, say:

To everyone I offer quietness.

To everyone I offer peace of mind.

To everyone I offer gentleness.

To everyone I offer joy, to everyone I offer totality

I offer the trust of a loving God to everyone, to everyone I offer innocence

To everyone I offer freedom, to everyone I offer a happy dream.

To everyone I offer happiness

To everyone I offer light

To everyone I offer open doors

To everyone I offer love

To everyone I offer a dream come true.

To everyone I offer health.

To everyone I offer integration.

Thank you guys... that is beautiful. It is a privilege to be in this company.

Say each one slowly and then pause a while, expecting to receive the gifts you gave. And it will come to you in the amount in which you gave it. You will find you have exact return, for that is what you asked. It might be helpful, too to think of one to whom to give your gifts. He represents the others, and through him you give to all.

Our very simple lesson for today will teach you much. Effect and cause will be far better understood from this time on, and we will make much faster progress now. Think of exercises for today as quick advances in your learning, made still faster and more sure each time you say, "To give and to receive are one in truth."

Thank you, just one final thought I would like to offer you... This Course is a course in translation and that is what makes it a physical occurrence. It is a Course of the translation of your world, into the real world. That is what makes it an event in conciseness, that is what makes it a physical occurrence in awareness. This very world is being translated, not some other, the one you find yourself in. In other words you are learning to overlook your judgments to see what is really here. That will be a physical occurrence and it will affect you wholly. You will be wholly affected by that translation and that will finally be the healing. When there is no world to return to you will have realized what is really here. That occurs through the translation or the transformation. Ok? I love you guys, and it is occurring in this very context. You look beautiful. Thank you for taking part in this. You are fearless now. When you have come this far you have exhibited fearlessness.

Thank you.

Namate.

Have fun. Enjoy the evidences of what occurred this week end. It will start to reveal itself to you. Keep your eyes opened and witness that it is occurring in you.

Thank you.
